FALL 2015 LETTER FROM BOARD CHAIR, INTERIM PRESIDENT AND CEO

Mary O'Connor, Interim President and CEO and Russ Johnson, Chair

Dear Friends and Supporters,

Thank you for your continued support of our students, colleges, Foundation and the Campaign for Student Success. Through your generosity, the Foundation has received gifts in excess of $6 million dollars for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 2015.

Your generosity enables us to make a positive impact on student success, to manage and grow the gifts you have entrusted to us and to steward the funds according to your intentions. In the past fiscal year, we awarded $1.6 million in scholarship funds to more than 2,000 students. Our success is due largely to the Foundation board and staff for their continued commitment to serving our students.

As we face the challenging year ahead, we ask for your continued support. As you may be aware, Arizona lawmakers have eliminated the District's funding completely as of this year's legislative session, leaving the college system to rely more on a mix of tuition, grants and property taxes to pay for its operations. As a result, the District is looking for innovative ways to generate revenue for the colleges, so they may continue to serve as a massive feeder system to all of the state's Universities who are educating a majority of the Valley's eventual working population. The Foundation plays a vital role in helping raise awareness and funds to sustain the District.

We offer our special thanks to Dr. Steve Helfgot, who retired in August 2015 as our President and CEO after seven years of service. Steve led the Foundation through a reorganization and growth period, including the Campaign for Student Success currently underway.

Enjoy your retirement!

Feel free to contact us with any questions or suggestions.

Sincerely,

Russ Johnson, Chair

Mary O'Connor, Interim President and CEO

Since immigrating to America in 1975, Dr. Ruth Tan Lim, a Malaysia-born physician, has been on what her friends and peers call a non-stop mission to champion good lifestyle choices for children. She began her medical practice in Mesa in 1979 and became a U.S. citizen three years later. Those closest to Dr. Lim have said that her inspiration to serve others comes from life-teaching events such as her activeduty service during Operation Desert Storm in 1991 as a U.S. Army physician.

Dr. Ruth Tan Lim

Her Children's Benefit Foundation has been a national model for medical care and the nurturing of a healthy lifestyle in needy kids. Scores of local humanitarian endeavors and global missions to relieve suffering span her nearly 40-year career as a pediatrician on a self-imposed assignment to enhance every child's journey through life.

"Dr. Lim, or Dr. Ruth, as so many affectionately call her, is the greatest example of volunteerism that you will ever find," said Dr. Shouan Pan, President of Mesa Community College. "Peace among nations is a subject that is very close to Dr. Ruth's heart, and she takes every opportunity to promote a peaceful way of life." It is these tenets, coupled with her passion for education, that inspired Dr. Lim to pledge $1 million for the naming rights of the main Performance Hall in the new Performing Arts Center (PAC) at MCC.

Dr. Lim currently serves on the Mesa Community College Development Board of Directors and is helping to raise funds towards a campaign goal of $5 million in support of the arts, scholarships, and world class instruction.

10TH ANNUAL HEROES OF EDUCATION EVENT HONORS LINDA MAZON GUTIERREZ AND COLLEGE HEROES

Linda Mazon Gutierrez, 2015 Hero of Education

This year marked the 10th anniversary of the Heroes of Education Dinner, which was held at the Sheraton in Downtown Phoenix on April 16, 2015. More than 400 community and business leaders attended this year and more than $120,000 in scholarship funds was raised.

Linda Mazon Gutierrez, President and CEO of the Hispanic Women's Corporation (HWC), was recognized for her personal and professional commitment to support Maricopa Community College students and educational opportunities. Ms. Gutierrez and the HWC have successfully partnered with the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation since 2006 to provide scholarships for graduates of the Maricopa Community Colleges Achieving a College Education (ACE) program. Ms. Gutierrez has served as the congressional and state legislative liaison on health care issues for the State of Arizona Health Care Cost Containment System for 25 years.

Prior to her retirement in 2007 from State government, she served as the liaison to the National Governor's Association in Washington D.C. Ms. Gutierrez is married to former State Senator Jaime Gutierrez and, together, they have four children.

"We are grateful for our community's commitment to build the scholarship support that we provide to students of the Maricopa Community Colleges," said Mary O'Connor, Interim President and CEO of MCCF. "This dinner is just one of the many fundraising efforts of our Foundation, District and colleges. It's an investment not only in our students, but in the future well-being and vitality of our community."

Since its inception in 2006, the Heroes of Education event has raised upwards of $1 million in scholarship funds to support Maricopa Community College students.

"We are grateful for our community's commitment to build the scholarship support that we provide to students."

EXPRESSIONS OF PHILANTHROPY GIFTS THAT GENERATE INCOME

Each year the generous spirit of our friends helps support students and programs at the Maricopa Community Colleges. This generosity is evident in countless ways, including gifts of financial support. And while giving may seem a straightforward process, there are many ways that friends choose to make a gift. Some careful planning will ensure that your personal objectives are met. Below is an overview of some of the most common ways to make a planned gift and the benefits of each.

PLANNED GIFTS

The benefits of planning are compounded when you utilize strategies that generate income as well as provide a number of other attractive benefits. Sometimes called deferred gifts, the term planned gifts refers to specific strategies that (in most cases) benefit charity at some point in the future while offering immediate benefits to the donor.

The Gift Annuity is a great example of how a gift generates income for the donor. This is actually a contract between a donor and our Foundation that is part gift and part annuity. In addition to the income received, the donor receives a charitable income tax deduction and a portion of each annuity payment may be tax-free.

LIFE INSURANCE

The gift of a paid-up life insurance policy is a good example. By designating our Foundation as owner and beneficiary of such a policy, you will receive a charitable income tax deduction that, in most cases, is equal to your cost basis in the policy.

The Deferred Payment Gift Annuity in which annuity payments are delayed for a number of years, offers rates that make it an attractive supplement to retirement income that can, in certain situations, be an appropriate gift.

The Charitable Remainder Trust (CRT) is perhaps the most versatile charitable giving tool. With the CRT it is possible to bypass capital gains tax on the sale of highly appreciated assets, generate an increase in income, receive an attractive charitable income tax deduction, and fulfill your philanthropic objectives. The CRT is a legal trust that can be constructed to produce a predictable annuity payment each year or take advantage of investment growth opportunities with income payments based on a growing trust principal.

CHARITABLE BEQUESTS

Next to writing a check, perhaps the best known vehicle for philanthropy is the bequest. A bequest makes it possible for you to make your wishes known today without relinquishing needed assets during your lifetime. Bequests can transfer a specific asset. You can also give a percentage of the estate after costs and taxes. Another good idea is to transfer property to a testamentary trust.

If you would like more information on the strategies discussed here or any other planning options, we invite you to contact us.

For more information, please call Mary O'Connor 480.731.8403. All inquiries are handled confidentially.

"After my uncle returned home from Afghanistan suffering from PTSD, I knew that military Psychology was my future. I wouldn't be able to pursue my goal and eventually transfer to a local university if it weren't for the ACE Program and the Maricopa Community Colleges."

> – Emma DiMarco Mesa Community College ACE (Achieving a College Education) Scholarship Recipient

THE GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING

Charitable gift annuities are the most popular life-income planned gift available to donors today. More and more nonprofit organizations are adding these gift instruments to their offerings.

A gift annuity is an annuity contract you buy from a charity. You hand over a lump sum and, in return, receive a fixed monthly, quarterly, or annual payment for life. You gain an immediate tax deduction for the charitable element of your contract. The charity invests the lump sum, pays you during your lifetime and after your death uses the remainder to honor your charitable intent.

Donors who purchase a charitable gift annuity from the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation have the benefit of a reputable, well-established Foundation that demonstrates financial strength. They can have a high degree of assurance that their annuities are safe. They can name one or all of the Maricopa Community Colleges (and a specific program) as the beneficiary of the annuity upon their death.

Maureen DeCindis is a current Foundation gift annuitant. Maureen is a longtime member of the Friends of Public Radio

Maureen DeCindis

Leadership Society at Rio Salado College. When she heard about the charitable gift annuity program offered by the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation on behalf of the radio stations, she was intrigued. A phone call to Lou Stanley, Vice-President of the Friends of Public Radio, started the process. She then met with Lou and Mary O'Connor, Foundation Interim President and CEO to review the terms of the annuity contract.

Maureen states "the process was easy. Having an annuity is like living off the interest of an investment, but with a higher rate of return than a traditional certificate of deposit, while ultimately benefiting the Friends of Public Radio. The income is guaranteed and the first year I reduced my income taxes by $2,000."

Fixed payments are a source of comfort to people like Maureen who don't want their future security dependent on the performance of financial markets.

They are very attractive to individuals who want simultaneously to support a favorite charity and provide themselves income.

Maureen feels that the money she invested in this annuity is a wonderful way to support the great public education that local public radio provides.

ALUMNUS JOURNEY TO PHOENIX COLLEGE BRINGS HELP ALL OVER THE WORLD

It has been more than 60 years since Dr. Simon Myint graduated from Phoenix Junior College, now known as Phoenix College. The place he describes as, "where I began my life's work."

Not the Average Student

Simon Myint arrived in Phoenix in September 1946 at the age of 18, from Burma (now Myanmar). He was dressed in American Army surplus khakis and combat boots, and had only $200 to his name. A chance discovery of a 1932 Phoenix Union High School yearbook, left behind by a missionary fleeing the Japanese entering Burma, brought him to Arizona.

Struggles after World War II

Burma was shut off from the rest of the world after the war. Myint's town was at the mercy of plague, cholera, typhoid and more. After suffering from malaria, Myint vowed to go into medicine if he survived.

The Letter That Changed His Life

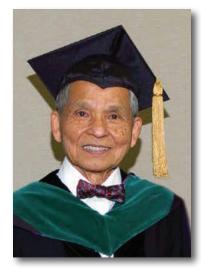

Myint wrote a letter "To the Dean", Phoenix Junior College (which had been referenced in the yearbook), asking to study in Phoenix. Dean Harry B. Wyman replied with information about the school and it's tuition of $100 per semester plus expenses. With a family salary of $30 a month, this was beyond Myint's dreams. However, he wrote back asking if he could work his way through school.

With no timely answer, Myint enrolled in a university in India. Unbeknownst to him, Dean Wyman contacted a minister, Dr. Charles Kendall about Myint. His church, now the Central United Methodist Church, agreed to help financially. Immediately, Myint boarded the SS Memphis City, which sailed from Calcutta, to Savanah, Georgia which took 48 days. From there, it was three days on a train, finally landing him in Phoenix.

An Education Leads to Life In Medicine and Giving Back

Dean Wyman welcomed Myint into his home and community. Dr. Kendall and his church remained friends and supporters for years. Eventually, Dr. Myint attended Northwestern University School of Medicine and did his surgical training at the University of Pennsylvania. He returned to Burma and was the first native to perform cardiac surgery. Dr. Myint volunteers as a surgeon in Mexico, Central/South America, Haiti and rural Nepal.

According to Dr. Myint, the Phoenix College slogan, "Go far close to home" applies to him. He goes far, but still remains close to Phoenix College. He honored the person who contributed to his success by establishing a scholarship endowment, in honor of Dean Harry Wyman as well as the Simon Myint Burma Memorial Scholarship; both through the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation. Dr. Myint has also been recognized by the American Association of Community Colleges with their 2013 Outstanding Alumni Award in honor of his support to Phoenix College.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

FOUNDATION BOARD MEMBER

The Foundation distributes more than $1.5 million in scholarship funds annually to an average of 2,000 students. Autumn Barber is just one of the many students. Autumn is a nontraditional student whose life was turned upside down after her husband, Autum Barber with her twins.

Tempe Police Detective Tim Barber, died of prostate cancer, three years ago. At the time, she was pregnant with twins.

Autumn, the 2014–15 recipient of the Women's Philanthropy Circle Scholarship, is now able to attend school full-time thanks to the generosity of Foundation donors. "Returning to school is emotional for me, but I know that Tim would be excited for my being granted this scholarship," she said. "Kind gestures like these are what make it possible for me to pursue my degree and help others in the future."

Autumn's focus is on providing a good life for her children, showing them that with hard work and sacrifice, any goal can be reached. She is a student at Chandler-Gilbert Community College and plans to transfer to a local university to complete a degree in Psychology. Award-winning interior designer and MCCF board member Lynne Beyer gives more than just her time to the Foundation. She has established the Lynne Beyer Design Excellence Scholarship for students attending Scottsdale Community College (SCC).

Lynne, who is an Allied member of the American Society of Interior Designers and a SCC alum herself, remains a faithful friend to the community colleges, which she credits for giving her the educational base and footing for what has been a rewarding career.

Her scholarship is awarded annually to a full-time student in good standing in SCC's Interior Design program. Lynne sits on the committee that makes the selection, which is based on their submitted portfolio of first-year interior design course work, professional promise and academic achievement.

"Being an alumna of SCC, it is an honor to be able to give back to the program that prepared me so well for my interior design career," she said.

Lynne began studying interior design in her home state at the University of Wisconsin-Madison while working at her mother's design firm. When her mother relocated to Phoenix and began working in Scottsdale, Lynne decided to join her. Initially planning to go to ASU, she ultimately chose SCC based on its reputation and flexibility as she wanted to continue working in interior design at the same time.

Lynne Beyer

Known for her work with residential clients, home builders, commercial developers and hospitality companies, Lynne is a recognizable figure in the Valley's design community. Among her many awards, Lynne has garnered Best In Show distinction for both residential and commercial design work. In 2013, she extended her portfolio by creating and designing furniture with Century Furniture, one of the world's largest privately owned furniture manufacturers.

With the encouragement of her husband and fellow Foundation board member, Ric Loope (who is an architect and former ASU professor), Lynne established her endowment as an expression of gratitude for the college that helped launch her successful career.

Lynn and Ric are an integral part of the MCCF's Board of Directors, and encourage others to engage their passion for education and helping students.
